

Join the Corruption Prevention Network (Qld)

Do you have an interest in the prevention of fraud and corruption in the public and/or private sectors? Then you should join the Corruption Prevention Network (Qld).

CPN(QLD) membership is open to individuals and organisations from both the public and private sector. Our current membership includes academics, local and Queensland State government employees, large and small business and individual members of the community.

Benefits of becoming a member

Once you become a member of CPN(QLD) you are eligible to join our Online Forum.

Receive CPN(QLD) newsletters and notification about corruption and fraud prevention events in Australia and the South Pacific region.

Networking opportunities with practitioners involved directly with corruption and fraud prevention across a broad range of roles including:

- Investigation
- Audit
- Training and education
- Intelligence gathering and analysis
- Legal and policy
- Research and evaluation
- Risk management
- Proactive prevention strategies
- Change management

What is expected of you?

The objective of the network is to facilitate the sharing of information and experiences between members and other interested parties. As members, we seek your active involvement on our Online Forum, contributions and suggestions to further develop our e-resources collection and participation in CPN(QLD) events and activities.

Members of the network are required to comply with the foundational principles and obligations outlined in the CPN(QLD) Code of Conduct in their dealings, interactions and activities as representatives and participants of the CPN(QLD).

About Us

The CPN(QLD) is a non-profit incorporated association whose membership consists of individuals and organisations with a proactive interest in the prevention of fraud and corruption in the public and/or private sectors.

The objects of the association are:

- i. To facilitate communication between members of the Network to help in developing strategies to prevent corruption and fraud and improve the ethical conduct of staff.
- ii. To develop opportunities for Network members to access material and share experiences to assist them contribute to the ethical conduct of staff and prevent fraud. These opportunities could allow agencies and individuals to:
 - Effectively implement best practice in corruption prevention.
 - Reduce the duplication of effort by members of the Network.
 - Reduce the incidence of inappropriate and corrupt behaviour.
 - Reduce the costs associated with managing corrupt conduct in the workplace.
 - Minimise distress to parties and organisations arising from workplace corruption
- iii. To assist communication between members of the Network and relevant parties elsewhere
- iv. To foster an independent and self sufficient Corruption Prevention Network (Queensland)

The Aims of CPN(Qld)

The Corruption Prevention Network (Queensland) aims to equip corruption prevention and fraud control practitioners with the necessary knowledge and applied skills to effectively combat unethical conduct in Queensland government, the private business sector and the wider community generally.

CPN(QLD) aims to build capacity within organisations and between interested people through:

- creating opportunities for networking with fellow practitioners and academics;
- professional development;
- access to the latest information/resources; and
- providing an on-line forum for the discussion of current issues and strategies in corruption prevention and fraud control.

Want to join us?

Complete our easy-to-use online membership form!

Go to our website at www.cpnq.org